

NAOMI TOMA TAI

“THE MORNING WILL COME”

(Saturday Session 4)

Naomi was born in Cottonwood, Utah to Japanese parents who were students at BYU at that time. At age 2, her family returned to Japan where she was raised as the oldest of 6 siblings. Naomi returned to the United States to attend Ricks College and later received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Linguistics from BYU Provo. After graduation, she worked for WordPerfect Corp. and Novell Inc.

From 1990-1991, Naomi served a full time mission in Fukuoka, Japan. She is married to the magnificent Ben Tai and is the mother of six reverent children. She loves to cook and organize community relief fundraisers in her spare time. She also enjoys massaging family members. She is a third generation Latter-day Saint sharing her family experiences and gift of faith which have brought her many blessings and strengths.
